Splankna attends to the way our bodies store emotions like frequencies. A simple combination of “touch and thought” allows the body to release these stored emotions, thus attending to the body and soul. When the stored trauma emotions behind a symptom are relieved, Splankna helps the client understand and remove the destructive vows, lies, and blocks associated with those traumas in Body, Soul and Spirit.

Erin K. Garcia, 5 Voices Leadership Coach, has been a professional certified coach with the ICF since 2010.

Her very first life coaching certification was with Accelerate Your Destiny with Henry Penix right here in Tulsa in 2003. In 2011, she also became an Accelerated Results Coach with Noah St. John, author of the amazing Affirmations technique.

Using her signature ASCENT Coaching system, Erin has coached solopreneurs, small business owners, network marketers, ministry leaders and even team leaders and executives in the corporate world to become the ultimate best version of themselves, both personally and professionally.

Her clients take leaps (of faith), develop powerful skills, claim their gifts and callings, leverage their strengths, double their income, step into courage, soar into momentum, live into purpose, 10x their desired results, and expand their greatness!

Erin's newest affiliation is as a Guide and Certified Coach with Giant Worldwide. Giant is a global media and content development company specializing in leadership transformation.

Giant is the creator of the acclaimed 5 Voices Leadership assessment.

Erin has published a memoir, The Real Skinny on My Anorexia, and has contributed to Pain, Purpose, and Passion and Stickman's Prayers.
